

PLAYSTATION®2 SPECIAL COLOR MODEL “PEARL WHITE” TO BECOME AVAILABLE FOR THE SUMMER SEASON
Limited Time Offer for the Summer Season in Japan

---

Tokyo, July 1, 2004 – Sony Computer Entertainment Japan (SCEJ), a division of Sony Computer Entertainment Inc. responsible for business operations in Japan, announced today that PlayStation®2 “Pearl White” will become available in Japan on July 15th, 2004, as a special color model version limited for the summer season 2004.

With a host of attractive software titles released by first and third party developers and publishers, cumulative production shipments of PlayStation 2 hardware reached about 17 million units in Japan, gaining strong support from a broad range of users regardless of gender and age. In the past, SCEJ released special model versions of PlayStation 2 for a limited time and volume to expand the enjoyment of PlayStation 2, and this offering has enjoyed wide popularity among users. In particular, “SAKURA”, a limited color model that was released in spring 2003, has received continuous requests after reaching its target shipment and was made available again as a limited model for spring season 2004.

In Japan, white has been a very popular color, having strong demands from users. The new color version adopts a stylish “Pearl White”, with a pearly lustrous finish. It is an original color for the Japanese market that will be released as a limited time offer for the summer season. Separately sold Analog Controller DUALSHOCK®2, and Vertical Stand (for PlayStation 2) of the same color will also become available with this offering.

Various easy-to-play software titles from EyeToy™ as well as PlayStation 2 the Best series are planned to be released for the summer season. With the release of this special color model version, SCEJ aims to gain new users and further expand the PlayStation 2 market in Japan.
